Arizona Abandonment and Abandoned Property Notices

General template, not legal advice. Have a Arizona attorney review before use. Last reviewed October 29, 2026.

How to use these notices: abandonment rules are set by each state, and many states spell out the notice wording, the waiting period, the delivery method, storage duties and whether items may be sold or thrown away. Some states require a court order before you take back the home. Look up the rule for Arizona before you change locks, enter to remove items or dispose of anything. Do not remove a tenant who has not left; that needs a court order.

Notice 1: Notice of belief of abandonment

Date of notice _____

To (tenant name or names) _____

Rental property address and unit _____

Tenant's last known mailing address _____

Tenant's last known email _____

To the tenants named above: rent of $_____ (Rent past due) has been unpaid since _____ (Date rent was due), and the landlord believes you have abandoned the home for these reasons: _____ (Reasons, such as utilities shut off, no one seen for weeks, belongings removed, neighbor reports).

Unless you contact the landlord in writing by _____ (Deadline date) to say that you have not abandoned the home and intend to stay, the landlord will treat the tenancy as ended on that date and take back possession, as allowed by Arizona law. The deadline gives you at least _____ (Number of days) days after this notice is delivered.

Send your written response to: _____ (Landlord name, address and email).

Waiting period and delivery rule for Arizona: _____ (Rule checked and the source)

_____

Landlord or agent signature

_____

Printed name

_____

Date

Notice 2: Notice of right to reclaim property left behind

Date of notice

To (former tenant and any other known owner)

Former rental address

Mailing address used for this notice

When the tenancy at the address above ended on _____ (Date tenancy ended), the following personal property remained in the home:

Item and description	Quantity	Condition	Estimated value, if your state requires it

The items are stored at _____ (Storage location). You may claim them by contacting _____ (Contact name) at _____ (Phone and email) and arranging a time to pick them up by _____ (Claim deadline). Reasonable costs of moving and storing the items, currently $_____ (Storage cost to date) plus $_____ (Daily or monthly storage rate), may need to be paid before release, where Arizona law allows.

If you do not claim the items by the deadline, they may be _____ (Sold at public sale, kept, donated or thrown away) as allowed by Arizona law. If items are sold, any money left after the costs of storage and sale will be handled as the law requires.

Abandoned property rule for Arizona (notice period, storage, sale and proceeds): _____ (Rule checked and the source)

Landlord or agent signature

Printed name

Date

Record of what was done

Date notice 1 delivered and how

Date notice 2 delivered and how

Photos and inventory taken on (date)

Items released, sold or disposed of on (date) and how

Witness name

General template, not legal advice. Have a Arizona attorney review before use.