Georgia Eviction Notice Set

How to use this set: pick the one notice that fits the situation. Every state sets its own notice periods, required wording and delivery methods, and some cities add more. A notice with the wrong period, amount or delivery method can be thrown out and force you to start over. These notices do not let a landlord remove a tenant; only a court order carried out by a law officer can do that.

Notice 1: Notice to pay rent or quit

Date of notice _____

Tenant name or names and all other occupants _____

Property address and unit _____

City, county and state _____

To the tenants named above: you are behind on rent for the home listed above. The rent now due is:

Rental period (from and to)	Rent due	Amount paid	Balance due
Total rent due

Within _____ (Number of days in the notice period) days after this notice is delivered, you must either pay the total rent due of $_____ (Total rent due) or move out and return possession of the home. If you do neither, the landlord may file an eviction case against you in court.

Pay to: _____ (Name of person to pay) at _____ (Address or payment portal), by _____ (Accepted payment methods), between _____ (Hours and days payment is accepted). The total above includes rent only. It does not include late fees, utilities or other charges unless Georgia law allows them in this notice.

> Notice period for unpaid rent: _____ (check the rule in Georgia)

If you have questions or need help, you may contact a local legal aid office or tenant help line. Rental assistance may be available in your area.

Notice 3: Unconditional notice to quit

Use only where Georgia law allows a notice that does not offer a chance to pay or fix the problem, such as repeated violations, serious damage, or illegal activity at the home. Many states limit when this notice may be used, and some do not allow it for residential tenants at all. Check first.

Date of notice

Tenant name or names and all other occupants

Property address and unit

Lease date

To the tenants named above: your tenancy is ended. You must move out and return possession of the home by _____ (Date to move out, at least the period required by law). This notice is given for the following reason:

If you do not move out by that date, the landlord may file an eviction case against you in court.

> Notice rules without a chance to cure in Georgia: A landlord must give 60 days of notice to end a tenancy at will, such as a month-to-month arrangement, while the tenant gives 30 days. (O.C.G.A. section 44-7-7)
